HEADMASTER LETTER TO THE G.D.A. COMMUNITY

In the summer the school offices are quiet islands - but busy! - in the midst of a bustling campus. As is described in more detail later in this issue by Ben Snyder, the facilities of the Academy are extensively used by many pre-planned, self-staffed programs from outside the school: for example, workshops for Project Adventure instructors; a large group of riding enthusiasts; soccer, field hockey, and football camps; an "Expressive Therapy" conference. Twice for several days in August virtually every lawn on the campus was decorated with groups of cheerleading aspirants, literally hundreds of high school girls learning and performing mystical chants and exotic gyrations. Simultaneous with all of this housekeeping and ground crews are hard at work refurbishing and grooming the buildings and the campus.

Behind this busy facade, however, the work of the school proceeds, tying up loose ends from the year just completed and laying the groundwork for the new year. Many parent and student conferences take place, and numbers of faculty members not off at camps, summer occupations, and graduate study meet to review, revise, and plan.

The opening week of school has come and gone with a minimum of problems, due in large part to the labors of Dick Leavitt and Mike Moonves. 111 new students were greeted last week by the student leaders from the Red Key Society and their advisors and coaches. All but ten of these were underclassmen and, together with the 225 returning students, form the nucleus of our school community. We are now under full sail.

Once again this year Governor Dummer received three final applications for 1980-81 for every available opening. The day student quota and the openings for girls were filled as early as April. The Academy began at capacity, about 335 day and boarding students, 143 and 192 respectively. The population will include 212 boys and 123 girls. Except for 56 freshmen, traditionally the smallest class, the other three classes average about 90 apiece.

John Witherspoon remains our close neighbor, but since June is now comfortably in retirement. We shall miss him! -though I anticipate that his stentorian support and advice will ring reassuringly across the athletic fields on Wednesdays and Saturdays. Thus jointly upon the shoulders of Heb Evans and Dave Williams descends the mantle of senior faculty member.

We are fortunate in the new full-time faculty for this fall. Briefly, Bob Colgate, new Dean of Students, comes to us after eight years at St. Mark's and the last two years in graduate study. Dave Williams, after six years performing above and beyond the call of duty as Dean of Students, returns to his former role as Chairman of the History Department. Marilee Fulton has six years of secondary school teaching, two of them at Northfield-Mount Hermon, and is closing in on her Ph.D. in English at the University of New Hampshire.

Dave Moore, with an M.S. from Clarkson, joins the Science and Mathematics Departments after fifteen years of teaching and coaching elsewhere. Ben Snyder, Bowdoin 1980 and a CASE scholar while in college, steps in as Associate Director of Development.

Finally Peter Harris, GDA 1971, Trinity 1976, with graduate study at Tufts, returns to teach biology and to coach. I think that it is of special interest that Governor Dummer is being strongly served by a leavening of alumni both in the faculty (Doug Miller, '47; Mike Mulligan, '71; Peter Harris) and on the Board of Trustees (18 of 24).

This fall 72 graduates of the Class of 1980 begin their college careers at 45 colleges and universities. Three others have deferred college for a year. Without attempting to be exhaustive, I find our most recent alumni scattered, in the South, from Emory University in Georgia to Southern Methodist in Dallas; in the mid-Atlantic states at American University, John Hopkins, and William and Mary; clustered in New England at, among others, five of the six state universities, Amherst, Bowdoin, Harvard, Middlebury, Mount Holyoke, M.I.T., Radcliffe, Trinity; skipping around, at Princeton, Cornell, Kenyon, Marietta, and Ohio Wesleyan in Ohio; the University of Toronto in the north, and the University of Southern California in the far West - and at almost as many more institutions both in and out of New England. Colby College and Tufts University lead in size of delegations from the GDA Class of 1980 with four each. Director of College Guidance Bill Sperry has carried out a Herculean responsibility in helping students and their families to determine upon a "right" college for each individual.

1979-80 was a strong year for the Academy. We met with flying colors the standards of the New England Association of Schools and Colleges for ten-year reaccreditation, a task which involved many hours of study by faculty, staff, students, parents, Trustees, and alumni. During the year leadership among the students reached a high point. Alumni and friends of the school produced the strongest support ever, to amass a record Annual Fund total. Record numbers attended Reunion Day on May 31.

We enter 1980-81 with high enthusiasm. Keep in touch, and come see us!

DEFERRED GIVING AT GOVERNOR DUMMER

The Academy's Deferred Giving program makes possible a larger gift than you may have thought possible . . . and pays you income for life.

How would you like the satisfaction of making a substantial gift to Governor Dummer while not giving up any income?

Or, does the idea of actually increasing your spendable income, while helping GDA to plan for the future, appeal to you?

These are just some of the advantages which may accrue to a donor who participates in some of the plans now available to alumni and friends of Governor Dummer through the Academy's Deferred Giving program.

What is Deferred Giving?

The term "Deferred Giving" refers to a number of options, most of which were created by the Tax Reform Act of 1969 in order to encourage philanthropic giving. There are many variations, but basically a plan works as follows.

First of all, an individual decides that he or she would like to do something substantial for Governor Dummer Academy. Normally such a donor might simply give cash, securities, or other property directly to the school. But in this case he finds that he is unable to make an outright gift as large as he would like because he is dependent upon the income which his assets generate.

Therefore, he irrevocably transfers certain assets — usually cash, securities, or real estate — to a trust, which assumes responsibility for the investment of these assets. The trust agrees to pay income to the donor for the rest of his or her life. What's more, on the death of the donor the income may also be paid to the donor's wife or husband (or any other designated person). On the death of this beneficiary, the assets held in the trust become the property of Governor Dummer.

But there are other advantages to the donor beyond the life income provided by this kind of Deferred Gift.

First, there is a substantial income tax deduction in the year in which the gift is established. The amount of the deduction is determined by official government tables, and is dependent upon the age and sex of the donor and/or the beneficiary (the older the donor, the greater the income tax deduction).

Another advantage is that the donor frees himself of investment concerns, since this responsibility is assumed by the trustee who administers the trust.

The donor's estate will benefit by an unlimited estate tax deduction, and by a saving on probate costs. These particular savings are also available for a gift by Will, but with a Deferred Gift plan there is the additional advantage that the donor receives recognition and the satisfaction of knowing during his lifetime of the good work that his benefaction will promote.

Increasing Your Income

In some cases, the establishment of a Deferred Gift plan actually results in an increase in the donor's spendable income. This occurs when the gift is made with highly appreciated assets which are producing relatively small income.

For example, suppose that you own securities which you acquired many years ago and which are now worth far more than you paid for them. The stock is paying a dividend of only 2% or 3%, but realistically you cannot reinvest in stock with a higher yield because you would be liable for a huge capital gains tax. The trust, however, can sell the stock without being taxed and can then invest in securities paying 8% - 9% or more, depending on current interest rates. You have thereby greatly increased your income, and you will receive it for the rest of your life.

Common Deferred Giving Plans

The plan which will probably be of greatest appeal to most alumni and friends interested in making a Deferred Gift is the Governor Dummer Pooled Income Fund. In a Pooled Income Fund, the gifts of many donors are commingled and each donor receives his or her share of the earnings. Since the funds do not have to be managed separately, participation in a Pooled Income Fund requires a gift of a smaller amount than do some other Deferred Giving plans.

Other commonly-used vehicles include the Charitable Remainder Unitrust and the Charitable Remainder Annuity Trust. With the former, the donor receives a fixed percentage of the trust's assets; with the latter, he receives a fixed amount each year for the rest of his life.

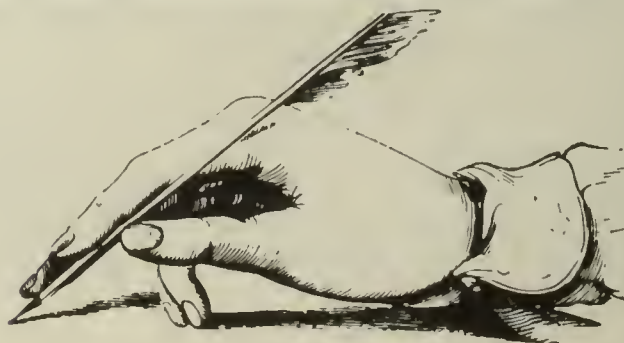

Another option is the gift of a home or farm with retained life residency — that is, the donor gives his home to the Academy but retains the right to live in it for the rest of his life. Again, there is an income tax deduction available, which would not be the case if the donor simply left his home to the school in his Will.

Finally, life insurance offers an opportunity for a Deferred Gift. If you have a life insurance policy that has outlived its need, you may give it to the Academy and deduct the total premiums you have paid or the cash value of the policy, whichever is less. Alternatively, you may take out a new policy naming the school as beneficiary, and take an income tax deduction for the premiums.

In Summary

Deferred Giving often makes a gift possible when otherwise none could have been made; it can also allow a much larger gift than an interested donor may have thought he could make. Unlike a bequest, it makes possible a significant gift during the donor's lifetime. It provides income for the life of the donor and his spouse. It allows a substantial income tax deduction. It permits the avoidance of capital gains taxes and often allows reinvestment of assets for higher yield. It permits the donor to rid himself of investment concerns. It provides benefits for the donor's estate.

In all cases, you should consult your legal advisor if you are considering the possibility of a Deferred Gift. For detailed information on any form of a Deferred Gift, please contact the Development Office at Governor Dummer Academy, Byfield, MA 01922; telephone (617) 462-6643. It will probably benefit both you and the Academy.

SUMMER AT GDA . . .Greenheads, Cheerleaders, Choirboys!!

Everyone knows that once the students go home for the summer following Commencement the Governor Dummer campus becomes a quiet and cozy spot free of young people. Right? Wrong! Although the Academy grounds are not filled to capacity over the summer months, the grunts and groans of athletes, the harmony of choirboys and the enthusiasm of cheerleaders can be heard almost daily.

The most prominent group of students on campus are with the Northeast Camps, directed by Doug Wood, the Athletic Director of Amesbury High School. He runs a five day soccer camp with both boarding and day students and two cheerleading camps. The cheerleaders add a special bit of life to the campus during their stay, especially when they adorn the Mansion House lawn with their pom-poms and cheers. Northeast also has a field hockey camp which features international-level coaches and 175 boarding and 125 day students. These camps are by far our largest and most consistent contributors. Their staff is professional, efficient and they all enjoy the facilities immensely.

At the other end of the spectrum lie the choirboys from St. Paul's Cathedral in Boston. Led by Tom Murray of Newburyport, the boys aged nine through twelve used the chapel and music facilities for a week. In previous summers they had stayed for a longer period, but their presence is always enjoyed by the GDA summer community.

Early in the summer equestrian students participating in competition at the Myopia Hunt Club reside on campus. Their campus activity, however, is obviously very limited due to the nature and location of their sport.

On the other hand, Falmouth (Mass.) High School and Silver Lake Regional High School (Kingston, NH) take full advantage of our facilities for their annual preseason football camp. They have been late summer regulars for the past seven years, stay for six overlapping days, and scrimmage each other on the last day.

There are two unique programs on the GDA campus during the summer, the first being Project Adventure, a workshop for physical education-related field people. Project Adventure trains these people to provide an alternative to the standard physical education program in public schools. They develop expertise in various outdoor sports such as rock climbing, rappelling and camping. Project Adventure's main office is in Hamilton, MA, and they conduct workshops nationwide.

Leslie College, in Cambridge, MA, holds an Expression Therapy Colloquium on campus in August. These 130 master degree candidates study therapy as it relates to the arts - dance, drama, poetry and sculpture. They can be seen scattered in discussion groups across campus on every lawn available and holding evening sessions in Parsons and Phillips. This group may be the most unusual on campus in that the students appear incredibly dedicated to their work and intent on relating meaningfully to one another.

School offices remain open as well during the summer with the Admissions, Business, Development and Headmaster's offices the most active (although not necessarily in that order). Director of Studies Dick Leavitt can often be seen devising new systems to improve the student scheduling, whereas Director of Admissions Mike Moonves, when not engaged in interviewing, may regularly be seen on the Phillips lawn perfecting his golf swing.

In the end, however, the summer months at Governor Dummer are very calm in comparison to the non-stop action of the school year. Even though the salt marshes of the Parker River encourage the abundance of greenheads to threaten every being in the area, all who are here in the summer would agree, that the months of June, July and August provide welcome respite from the hectic activity of the winter months.

MAJOR CAMPUS IMPROVEMENTS SUMMER 1980

The summer months are used to the fullest extent to improve the Academy physical plant and the summer of 1980 has been no different.

Approximately $25,000 has been approved and expended to improve the drainage on the athletic fields.

This is stage one of a three-part project that is estimated to cost about $75,000 in order to make all of our athletic fields playable under adverse conditions.

With the presence of "good old Byfield Clay", any water that settles on the ground just stays there and waits to evaporate.

For years the high tide of the Parker River has been flooding the lower athletic fields. It was always first to come in, but very slow to run off. A grid of trenches and pipes has been laid out so that most surface water will have a place and direction to flow.

Another major improvement that will contribute to the well-being of the faculty and students is in its final stage of completion. All living quarters and buildings have had heat-rise and smoke detectors installed. The final wiring is now being installed that will tie each building directly to the Byfield Fire Department. In the past, in case an alarm went off, it was necessary for someone to remember to call the switchboard or fire department to tell them we had a fire.

Now the alarm will ring directly to the fire department and will also signal an "annunciator" that will identify the building that is in trouble. Although we have been most fortunate over the years and have not suffered any great losses, this latest installation eliminates the human element and gives the Academy another extra margin of safety.

FALL SPORTS PREVIEW . . . the coaches' perspective

VARSITY FOOTBALL PREVIEW

The 1980 edition of the Governor Dummer football squad will be hurt by the loss, through graduation, of five two-way starters, four of whom were All-League selections. Gone are all-time leading scorer Marty Stephan and Tony Thomas who averaged eleven yards a carry. Although this will obviously hurt our ground attack we have a solid young quarterback in John Pingree who is quick and has good intelligence. We will have to replace the right side of our offensive line with some new and younger players, but have enough quality athletes to cover this area effectively.

With twenty seniors on the team and a good nucleus of returning lettermen the season looks promising. There will be ample opportunity for younger players to step in and do the job and when we put together our starting backfield we should have a better idea of the 1980 prospects. We are not nearly as deep as in previous years, but will give a strong representation of the Academy on Saturday afternoons.

I would also like to mention that David Moore has joined the coaching staff. Dave comes to us with 16 years of teaching experience and brings a great deal of coaching expertise to the staff. We look forward to a successful year.

Ed Rybicki

VARSITY SOCCER PREVIEW

The 1980 Varsity Soccer Team has only nine returning players from the previous year. Fortunately, each of those nine players will be making substantive contributions to this year's club. Tony Tommasi, the captain of the team, promises to be the stalwart defenseman on the club as he comes into his senior year with two years experience starting as a fullback. Other promising candidates are halfbacks Jamie Stone and Sarge Kennedy, while scoring threats on the line are wingers David Brown and Bobby Low and inside Chris Laganas, and Jon "Rooster" Andrews, Rob Breed.

Coaches Mulligan and Cole are still cautious about the prospects for the 1980 Season. Mulligan told reporters that the club would be successful if they could develop an offensive scoring punch with Low and Breed and obtain reliable play from Heb Evan's J.V. goalie of the previous year, Doug Brown.

Mulligan did stress two points with the inquisitive press. First, he said that his club will be in top-notch condition and will be more than able to run with any team in New England and second, he felt that spectator support should be enhanced this year as the team will be playing on the upper fields. "I'm excited about the prospects this season" said Mulligan "and I look forward to seeing the alumni come back and help root for this club in the quest for The League Championship."

WOMEN'S SOCCER PREVIEW

Varsity Women's Soccer has a strong group of returnees and looks forward to a successful season. Pre-season practice indicates that Wellesley's Karla Austen will be utilized as sweeper. Karla has excellent defensive skills and has played a fullback position before. Benay Lazo, a half-back, appears to be well suited for left wing. Benay demonstrated good technical skills and has the speed and stamina to be extremely effective at left wing. Sally DeGan, co-captain and Mass. All-Star player, is expected to start at center-half. Sally, who plays offense and defense exceptionally well, will no doubt see a lot of action. Returnees Perry, Loudon, McCullom and Shula will lend good support at half and forward positions. Hopefully, during try-outs players of equal or better ability will surface. We look to a good season for both J.V. and Varsity.

FIELD HOCKEY PREVIEW

The G.D.A. field hockey team is looking to better last year's 5-5-2 record. With six returning letterwinners, including the experience of Tracy Meehan, Kathy O'Leary and Antea Von Henneberg (all '81), the entire '79 JV squad (which posted the best JV record to date) and some extremely talented newcomers our prospects for a winning season look good.

Thirty eager hockey candidates gave up the last week of their summer vacation to attend the pre-season practice sessions. Six days of double sessions organized by the coaches (including the new JV coach Ms. Letvinchuk) were filled with calisthenics, running, drills, sprinting, crab walking, indian running, cartwheels and even some scrimmaging.

If the enthusiasm and hard work which was evident during this first week prevails throughout the season, surpassing last year's record should be an easy task.

CROSS COUNTRY PREVIEW

The Governor Dummer Cross Country team is beginning the eighties with a "new" look, such as a new addition to the course, making it now 3.1 miles (5k), as well as new uniforms, sweats and a new head coach. In addition, two new runners on the team, Andy Barton and Greg Skaff, are expected to help put G.D.A. cross country back in the top of the standings as it was in the early seventies.

The team came back for six days of double workouts, with evidence of summer running, motivated runners and good spirits. Mark Woodbury (capt.), David Critics, John Cole, Phil Barry and Chris Ginsberg should vie for the top 5 spots. Kim Wilson (capt.) and Danielle Schwartz should be the top runners for the girls. The schedule for both teams has not changed much, including some very competitive clubs among our sister schools. However, first on the schedule is the annual Alumni Race. This year's team is eager to race GDA's "older" and more experienced runners on its new course.

THANKS TO PUT FLINT

The Governor Dummer Community would like to take this opportunity to thank publicly Putnam P. Flint '37 for his work as the Annual Fund Chairman from 1978-80. It is a happy occasion when any school can enlist the services of a man with such charm, wit, enthusiasm and dedication as Put has. We express here our deep appreciation. With Put as Chairman, the Annual Fund has for the past two years substantially exceeded its goal. This is due, in no small part, to the work of Put and his support of dedicated class agents.

The GDA family is sure that Put will remain in close contact with the Academy, lending his successor Tim Greene '50, support. On behalf of all alumni, parents, students and friends of the Academy, The Archon would like to thank Put once again for the immeasurable help that he has given the Academy.

MESSAGE FROM TIM GREENE

As Annual Fund Chairman for 1980-81 I look forward to working with all Governor Dummer alumni and friends, both in New England and throughout the United States. Last year our class agents, parents and dedicated alumni helped Put Flint '37 exceed the goal of $135,000. This year our goal is $150,000. It is vital that we raise alumni participation above the present 32% to at least the 35-40% range. With your generous support and hard work I am confident we can exceed both goals.

WELCOME . . . BEN SNYDER

Joining the Development Office this July was Ben Snyder, who has the difficult task of filling the shoes of Barry Burlingham '71, who was moved on to Harvard to pursue his Masters degree. Ben will be coordinating this year's Annual Fund drive with Tim Greene '51, the new Annual Fund Chairperson, and will edit The Archon, among other assorted duties around campus.

Ben comes to Governor Dummer as a 1980 graduate of Bowdoin College where he was a cum laude double major in History and Government. As Vice-President and Treasurer of Delta Kappa Epsilon and as a Resident Assistant at a College Apartment complex he remained active in both campus and fraternity affairs. He also was involved within the community in the Big Brother program which he regards as "... one of the most worthwhile and rewarding experiences" of his college career. He also managed to find time to play three years of varsity soccer and two of junior varsity hockey and he hopes to help at Governor Dummer in the coaching of these sports.

Before attending Bowdoin, Ben spent a year at Cranleigh School in England on an English Speaking Union scholarship, where he professes to have learned a bit about the traditional aspects of independent education, along with the important traditions of Yorkshire pudding and warm beer. Ben has spent much of his life, however, involved in American independent education. Born, raised and educated at the Cranbrook School in Bloomfield Hills, Michigan, Ben learned many of the problems, and rewards, of involvement in independent preparatory school life. His father, also Ben, is Director of Special and Summer Programs for the Cranbrook Educational Community and his mother is Director of Cranbrook P.M., an evening adult education program designed to raise money for the Scholarship Fund. During his summers through high school and college, Ben worked with many of the various programs on campus in assorted administrative capacities. From this it is clear that, for someone his age, Ben brings a great deal of independent school experience to Governor Dummer. He will live in Ingham II and in his spare moments help in the dormitory and on the field and rink.

MUGS FOR SALE

The Community Council, GDA's new student government, is selling school mugs.

The basic mug is white ceramic with a handle and holds fourteen (14) ounces. The school shield with "Governor Dummer" arched above and "Academy" arched below appears in maroon on the front face. Gold trim encircles the top. The basic mug cost with postage is $8.25.

Your name and class year ('81, '65, '72 . . .) printed in black Old English type may appear on the reverse face. The basic mug cost with imprint and postage is $9.50. The mugs will be delivered in approximately eight weeks.

Place orders with check and including exact layout of name to be imprinted, with The Community Council Mug Sales, G.D.A., Byfield, MA 01922.

HOMECOMING 1980

Saturday, October 4th, marked the beginning of a new, and hopefully longstanding, tradition at Governor Dummer. The brainchild of the Alumni Association Executive Committee, this day provided an opportunity for alumni/ae and their families to return to campus with the leaves in their full color and the campus in full swing of the school year.

The Admissions Office, headed by Mike Moonves, opened its doors exclusively to alumni children and their families and offered guided tours of the campus. There was a luncheon on the lawn of Phillips and a traditional reception followed the football game in the Cobb Room. Many faculty members, past and present, were in attendance and we had a large turnout for this occasion. Buckingham Browne and Nichols provided the opposition and this rivalry brought back many pleasant moments for GDA alumni.

Whatever happened to . . . CLASS NOTES

Where have all the Class Notes gone?

Do you turn to the Class Notes section first in your Archon? Are you curious to find out what your old G.D.A. friends are up to? Most alumni are interested and do turn to the Class Notes first.

Then, why, do you ask now, are there no Class Notes in the Annual Fund Report Archon? Because no one this summer took the time and trouble (what little of it there is) to let the Development Office, and in turn their friends and classmates, know what they were up to. That is over 3000!! people who chose not to inform the G.D.A. family of their whereabouts, interests, jobs, families, contacts with other alums or contacts with the Academy.

The Class Notes section can, and should, be a large, most interesting and most enjoyable component of every Archon. Recently there has been little response.

If you would like to see this segment expanded and improved, please do all you can do, by jotting down a few notes on the enclosed card and dropping it in the mail. It will take no time and will let all those whom you have tried to stay in touch with over the years know that you are still interested in them and what they're doing.

Don't wait! Fill out the enclosed card now so that the next Archon can be well stocked with your Class Notes.
